

ARCHITECTURAL RECORD

IIDEX/NeoCon Review

Canada's largest design-industry exposition and conference, IIDEX/NeoCon Canada, inspired attendees for the 21st time this September in Toronto. With a focus on design for adapting work and living space, the show featured product manufacturers from up north and beyond. - Ingrid Spencer

Retro renews itself in lounge seating

Pulse, or "Positive Urban Life Style Experience," is a Canada-based, 3 year-old company. Its contemporary custom sofas, love seats, chairs, and other seating can be adapted to fit the needs of the client, with a variety of colors, frames, legs, foams, and fabrics to choose from, including vinyl, ultrasuede, and wool. The Babette love seat featured here (above) comes in blue, scarlet, chocolate, rust, and sage, with or without arms. Most designs can be shipped within four to five weeks, with some models shipping the next day with Pulse's Quick Ship Program. Pulse Furniture Design, Winnipeg. www.pulsestyle.com [Reader Service November 2005 # 227]